ABSTRACT:

According to Lyons (1977:270-4), the whole vocabulary of a language is structured through semantic relations. They are linguistically termed as sense relations. And the entire vocabulary may be explained through the different types of sense relations such as synonymy, hyponymy, binary opposition, non-binary opposition, part-whole relations, and so on. Most of the vocabularies show the relations of identity hold between two or more vocabulary items. Such a kind of vocabularies is included under the relations of synonymy. Many of the vocabularies are semantically related words that show contrast either between two words or more than two.

Abstract Report: The abstract is interesting and hold the readers attention. It is easy to understand by reader without a specialized background.

INTRODUCTION:

The tirukkuRaL, as the masterpiece of tiruvaLLuvar, which seems to be a mini-work in size, but contains 133 chapters on different aspects of life, and each chapter consists of ten couplets. Each couplet is called kuRaL-venba, which is one of the basic meters of Tamil prosody. It has been broadly divided into three parts, of which the first deals with aram (virtue) the moral value of human life, the second discusses porul (wealth) that refers to socio-economic values of life, and the third on inpam (love), which depicts the psychological values of life. There are 38 chapters in the first part, 70 chapters in the second part, and 25 chapters in the third part. In the third part, Thiruvalluvar plays the role of creative artist. But in the first two parts, we find Thiruvalluvar as a moral philosopher and political scientist.

Introduction Report: It accurately describes current knowledge related to the research question.

METHODS & MATERIALS:

Data Sources:

For the present study, the data have been randomly collected from the primary source text tirukkuRaL and also from other source books namely tirukkuRaL tiRavu kool written by Dr M Mangaiyarkkarsi, THIRUKKURAL (Tamil- English Version) by Rev. G U Pope, Rev. W H Drew, and Rev. John Lazaras, and so on.

As far as the methodology is concerned, the method of introspection is needed to probe the subjective contents of consciousness, because the main object of this study is qualitative mental phenomena as they exist in awareness. Further, it is oriented with phenomenology of conceptual content and its structure in language which comes under the cognitive semantics. Hence, the researchers in the field of linguistics as a scientific study go to where meaning is located.

Methods & Materials Report: Tables/Boxes/Diagram & Images are Used to Explain Specific Points or Background Information. Figures That The Plotted Parameters are Clearly Mentioned.

CONCLUSION:

The concept of synonymy and its types have been discussed, so far, on the basis of the components of the lexical meaning that is semantic content of the word and also context dependent approach or substitutability without difference in meaning. They are essential for the complete understanding of the concept of synonymy. All types of synonymous words like absolute synonyms, near synonyms, partial synonyms and total synonyms are found in tirukkuRaL.

Conclusion Report: The Text is Rounded off with a Conclusion that Discusses the Implication of The Findings & Ideas Discussed & Their Impact on Future Research Direction.
