ABSTRACT

India is one among the countries that have offered free education at primary and middle levels under the Right to Education act 2009. This called for need to conduct a study on relationship between student school absenteeism attendance and academic performance in secondary schools students. This study was set to look into student's school attendance and academic performance. The study used descriptive survey design targeting secondary schools. The target population for study consisted of 69 male and 89 female teachers.

Introduction

Reducing the rates of student truancy and chronic absenteeism have been and continues to be a goal of many schools and school systems. Beyond the fact that poor attendance predicts dropping out of school, chronic absenteeism can result in other negative consequences for students and schools.

A Good Introduction :-

Depict the significance (importance) of the study - why was this value doing in any case? Give a wide connection. Extremely briefly depict the exploratory configuration and how it achieved the expressed destinations.

Materials

Information on table 1 shows that majority of 87 (60%) respondents observed that there is high student absenteeism early in the term. On the other hand, during the middle and the late of the term, 37 (26%) respondents.

A Good Materials :-

Materials may be accounted for in a different passage or else they may be distinguished alongside your systems.

Result

Information on table 1 shows that majority of 87 (60%) respondents observed that there is high student absenteeism early in the term. On the other hand, during the middle and the late of the term, 37 (26%) respondents.

A Good Result :-

Abridge your discoveries in content and show them, if fitting, with figures and tables. In content, depict each of your outcomes, guiding the per user toward perceptions that are generally significant.

Conclusion

This study attempted to establish the relationship between student school attendance and academic performance. The findings revealed that there is relative low student's school attendance.

A Good Conclusion :-

You may propose future headings, for example, how the analysis may be adjusted to achieve an alternate target. Clarify the majority of your perceptions however much as could be expected, concentrating on systems.

REVIEWER COMMENTS

- The work, as with all work advancing from this specific gathering, is generally sound.
- My remarks here are concerned singularly with the association of the composition.
- Thought of these focuses will, I accept, lead to an enhanced report that better shows the key ideas and conclusions.
- Generally, this is a reasonable, brief, and elegantly composed original
