Introduction

Houselessness is a condition in which people are denied from regular dwelling and unable to secure housing (Lee and Price-Spratlen, 2004: 3), while, New Advance Oxford Dictionary (2010, p. 745) defines homeless as people who have no home.

A Good Introduction :-

Depict the significance (importance) of the study - why was this value doing in any case? Give a wide connection. Extremely briefly depict the exploratory configuration and how it achieved the expressed destinations.

Materials

The study is based on the primary data generated through field survey with help of direct questionnaire to the respondents in Aligarh city. The survey was carried out during the months of February and May 2014 to see the seasonal impact on the concerned problem of houselessness.

A Good Materials :-

Materials may be accounted for in a different passage or else they may be distinguished alongside your systems. In biosciences we habitually work with arrangements - allude to them by name and portray totally, including convergences of all reagents, and pH of watery arrangements, dissolvable if non-fluid.

Result

Table 2 depicts the age-structure of houseless population in Aligarh city. This table shows that 40 percent houseless persons were recorded as juvenile (20 percent) and senile (20 percent) population in the city while remaining share

A Good Result :-

Abridge your discoveries in content and show them, if fitting, with figures and tables. In content, depict each of your outcomes, guiding the per user toward perceptions that are generally significant.

Conclusion

The overall analysis of the study reveals that the houselessness is an emerging major problem of our society.

A Good Conclusion :-

You may propose future headings, for example, how the analysis may be adjusted to achieve an alternate target.
