ABSTRACT

In India, National Thermal Power Plant run more than 70 thermal power plant and subsequently generate about 110 million tonnes of coal-ash and this is predicted to increase up to 170 million tonnes per annum by the year 2012. Fly ash from power generation can be considered either as a waste or as a resource yet to be fully utilized. Huge amounts of fly ash are deposited in adjoining area of the Thermal power plants. These barren fly ash dykes create varied kinds of environmental hazards due to erosion and leachate generation and health hazards to the nearby inhabitants.
